the cornfields. It is said that Congressman Pound has written a letter declining a renomination in the Ninth District. The Ohio Republicans are in high glee. They have a good platform and a strong ticket, and are going to win.

General Rosecrans is still harping on Chickamauga. He has written another letter about that battle and the part Garfield took in it. He seem to die hard.

A Boston telegram says that since President William B. Strong, of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road had the surgical operation performed he is con_ sidered out of danger.

Harriet Beecher Stowe was seventy years old on Wednesday and entertained a large party in Newtonville, which comprised some thirty or forty of the most noted literary characters in the East.

There is not a leading Democratic paper in the South that can figure out a Democratic majority in the next House of Representatives. It looks bad for them whichever way they make estimates.

Senator Ben Hill, who has been so often reported as being on his death-bed, walks about with "a firm step, his figure erect, and his eyes clear and bright." The question of appointing his successor to the Senate has been indefinitely postponed.

When Reed last held an interview with Guiteau, he was requested by the assassin to appeal to the President for a pardon, and especially instructed him "to shake his fist in the President's face' when he demanded the pardon. This is an excellent way to insure the banging on the 30th.

The House of Representatives on Wednesday showed what a disgraceful scene it could get up in the shortest space of time. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, called White, of Kentucky, a raving mamac and a deliberate har," which mad things warm for a while, and after a resolution was offered to reprimand both members, the House went about its busi-

The nominations of Boutelle and Milliken by the Republicans for Congressmen-at-large, in Maine, are said to be rather weak. Boutelle was defeated by Lall-Greenbacker-two years ago by a majority of 850, and Milliken was beaten by Murch-also a Greenbacker-by nearly a 1,000 votes. Judging from the sentiment in Washington, the Republicans do not feel very hopeful, but if Blaine takes the stump, the tide may be turned in favor of the Republicans.

THE PENNSYLVANIA MUDDLE.

There does not seem to be any immediate hope of a satisfactory settlement of the differences between the Republican factions in Pennsylvania. Neither side anticipates that a compromise can be made in time to call another convention and put in a new ticket before the fall election. Both fections are stubborn, and refuse to be comforted. They are led by men of more ambition and self-will than sound judgment and discretion, and hence the campaign there has become one of a cut-throat na-

Although President Arthur is virtually on the side of Senator Cameron, he begins to think that Don has been doing considerable biundering, and he is not inclined to follow him to that extent which will be foolhardy and defeat the Republican party in Pennsylvania. In order that there may be no fresh stirring up of the strife, the bitterness made deeper, the President has decided not to make any material changes in the Federal of fices in that State, but to let matters run as smoothly as possible, at least until after election.

Senator Mitchell does not think there will be any compromise, but that if one is made it will not be done by outside influence, but by the action of the people. He says if there should be a popular desire for a new convention, to be elected by popular and customary Republican methods, the desire would be heed-But even then, he thinks many of the Independents would be un willing to abandon their ticket, and they would object to placing a new ticket in the field for the reason that they want to see the "Cameron machine" defeated, and the surest way to do it is to keep the Independent ticket before the people.

There are so many perplexities connected with the Pennsylvania question, that the most clear-headed and considerate of either side hardly know what to do. They do know that to continue the division will certainly defeat the Republican party and thereby give the State to the Democrats, but how to move in calling a new convention is a matter not so easily settled. It is said by the bolters, or rather the Mitchell faction, that the masses of the people are strongly in favor of the Independent ticket, and while it could not be elected it would poil a sufficient number of votes to give it the dignity of a respectable party. However, in this way there could be nothing gained in the ul-The Republicans the Democrats on top. In this view of the case it would not only be politic but wise, to inaugurate a new policy, to call a new convention and to nominate such Republicans as are thoroughly in sympathy with the principles of the party and who would rather they would succeed than any man or

WISCONSIN DELEGATION.

Washington, June 14-Under the new apportionment the present Congressional delegation from Wisconsın have received a considerable shaking up. Mr. Caswell is retired by being thrown in the same district with Charles Williams, who will, of course, be returned. Mr. Hazelton will probably be returned, but will have a lively race for the nomination. Two of his strongholds-Crawford and Richland counties-have been taken from him, and Dane county, which bristles with candi dates, is included in his district. "Boss" Keyes and Senator Burrows are thereby brought into the race. Mr Hazelton, however, has the advantage of being in, and his record in Congress is unassail-

Mr. Humphreys will be antagonized by the Hon. Wm. T. Price, of Black River Falls, who by the present arrangement is brought into the race in that district. Mr. Guenther, it is thought, will be returned. General Bragg will have a walk-over, and Mr. Deaster, of Milwaukee, will make a strong race, and may be nominated and elected. Messrs. Bragg and Deuster are the only Democrats in the delegation.

In Governor Pound's district there are several aspirants for his shoes. Among them are E. L. Brown, of Waupaca; Isaac Stevenson, of Marathon, and Charles M. Webb, of Wood. Stephenson is pressed by the eastern, and Webb by the western Mr. David Clark's and a girl at Wm. interests of that district. Brown is a new importation, Waupaca county being taken into the district since the new apportion-ment. Of other candidates in the State aspiring for Congressional honors are the Hon. J. B. Treat, of Green, and the Hon. O. B. Thomas, of La Crosse.

A FATAL FLOOD.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 14.-The most terrible calamity that has befallen this city for some years was the sudden and disastrous flood of this morning. Through the center of the city is a small creek Pogue's Run, which in dry seasons is little more than a mud puddle; but in the event of a sudden and heavy rain, the extent of the country which it drains makes it very dangerous. About midnight last night there began a heavy fall of water, which lasted until 7 o'clock this morning. The rain was greater north of the city, and early this morning Pogue's Run began to rise, and soon overflowed its banks. In the northeastern part of the city yards and cellars were inundated, and a number of small bridges were washed away and blocked up the channel of the stream forcing the water down the streets. A number of small cottages were swept away with no loss of life, and like disposition was made of fences, culverts, sheds, etc., the damage amounting to probably $750,000 in this vicinity.

The stream runs under the Union depot in a tunnel, which was not sufficient to carry off the volume of water, and it was forced up Meridian street, where the leading wholesale houses are situated. remove their goods from the basements for this time of the season, but a few and cellars, but the waters came too rapdly and great loss was sustained.

4 THIRTEENTH REGIMENT.

WHITEWATER, June 14-The annual re union of the Thirteenth Wisconsin Regiment passed off here to-day most successfully. Governor Rusk, Judge Lyon, of the Supreme Court, (formerly colonel of the regiment), Major Rockwood, Captains Norcross, Randall, Pratt, and Cobb, and over one hundred other members of the regiment attended. Fully as many more of other regiments, including Major Joslyn, of the Twenty-fifth Regiment, were present. They were formally welcomed in the grove by Professor Salisbury, and passed the time in speaking, rehearsing reminiscences, and banqueting. Captain Sam Cobb, was chosen President for the ensuing year. The next reunion will be held at Evansville.

A second obtion of washing safe. A second objection is that it is a very unpleasant job for the washers and endangers their health. This objection can be obviated where large tanks can be constructed, so that the washer can stand outside and not enter the water. This is effective. To the wool-grower, as far as the sheep, its health and thrift is concerned, there is not a single thing to be said in favor of washing, while there is much to be said in favor of not washing. It is far better for the sheep to be sheared as early as the middle of May. It is then too warm to carry such a coat. It is then too warm to carry such a coat. and they generally lose flesh after this time till sheared. After being turned out to grass the wool becomes more or less filthy, ewes suckling lambs lose their wool, and sheep sheared at this time if kept under shelter nights and during cold storms will do much better. The wool also starts better than when wool also starts better than when and sold on its merits. In each class of wool the different lots bring about the same price, no matter what the condition unless decidedly bad; there is a certain price for washed fleeces and a certain deduction for unwashed, yet the unwashed may have less foreign sheep after washing. If there is more extraneous matter in it before washing, it, of course, is not worth so much per pound, and the cost of freight on the difference in weight must also be de-ducted, but that this difference is as great as that made by buyers is denied by wool growers and they will not believe it until they see the price of wool graded according to its condition and its

There is a growing objection to washing sheep. Breeders of choice sheep will not do it, and if none that grow wool would, and at the same time take pains to keep their sheep clean and shear early, they would probably re-ceive for their wool as much as they now do. If not the gain to the sheep would compensate for some deficiency in fleece by allowing early shearing. More sheep are sheared unwashed every year and the number will probably increase until washing the wool on the sheep will be unknown. - Detroit Post Don'ts for the Girls.

The Oldest City in the World.

Damascus is the oldest city in theworld. Tyre and Sidon have crumbled on the shore; Baalbec is a ruin; Palmyra is buried in a desert; Ninevah and Babylon have disappeared from the Tigris and Euphrates. Damascus remains what it was before the days of Abraham—a cen-ter of trade and travel—an island of verdure in the desert; "a presidential capital," with material and sacred associations extending through thirty centuries. It was near Damascus that Saul of Tar-sus saw the light above the brightness of the sun; the street which is called Strait, in which it was said "he prayed," still runs through the city. The cara-van comes and goes as it did a thousand years ago; there is still the sheik, the ass and the water-wheel; the merchants of the Euphrates and Mediteranean still occupy these "with the multitude of their wares." The city which Mohammed surveyed from a neighboring height, and was afraid to enter "because it was given to man to have but one paradise, and for his part he was resolved not to have it in this world," is to-day what Julian called "the eye of the East," as it was, in the time of Isaiah, "the head of Syria."

Twenty-five more female patients could be cared for in the building. The old asylum now used for patients is fully occupied, besides three insane men in the alms house. Whether this county will receive patients from other counties may be a matter for present consideration. If we are correctly informed, there are remaining at Mendota seventeen of our insane, who are not yet pronounced incurable, and the quota of this county is thirty-three. Superinitendent Conent has received from Judge Teall, of Eau Clair?, a letter of inquiry in relation to receiving cases from other counties.

intendent Conant has received from Judge Teall, of Eau Clair?, a letter of inquiry in relation to receiving cases from other counties. There is no doubt but that the asylum could thus be filled, if it should be profitable to the county to do so, and if done it would be well to receive on well defined conditions. For the building, heating and furnishing of the asylum, aside from heating the other buildings, there has been appropriated $9,045.81, and for the latter $1,050, of these appropriations there remain $90. And unpaid bills contracted amounting to $971.88. This indebtedness has been incurred for completing the laundry and furnishing the same with boiler, requisite pipes, &c.; for beds and bedding for both asylums; an addition to these for the use of male patients, their number having been increased by the transfer from Mendota having become necessary; also, for crockery and additional furniture for the new building. Some of this indebtedness has been incurred through the directions of this commit tee the work and material being absolutely required to complete the building and properly conduct the asylum. Others have been contracted by Superintendent Conant with the sanction of the committee for the reason that he was considered better able to determine the circumstances as to the requirements. There was also considerable repairing done to the old buildings, the necessity for which developed in the course of the changes being made. The cost of the new asylum in its present running order, after separating the several items included in the bills of $971.88 with as much care as is essential to the purpose, this committee report in round numbers as $9,500, and including the heating of bills of $971.88 with as much care as is essential to the purpose, this committee report in round numbers as $9.500, and including the heating of the old buildings, with the erection of the new stack for the boilers, all alterations and repairs and all the work thus far done $10,006.81. An other boiler, both to insure a sufficient capacity for the generation of steam in extremely cold weather, and as a reserve in case of accident is deemed necessary and is recommended. Notwithstanding the assurances given this committee last winter when the boiler now in use was being put in, they would have insisted on having one much larger so as to leave no question as to capacity to generate sufficient steam for heating purposes in very cold weather. The winter being pretty well spent it was considered that the present boiler could do the work, and that some future Board or this committee would see the necessity and advisability of having two see the necessity and advisability of having two boilers. Having but one boiler in case it should become disabled in very cold weather an annoyance would arise which under present arrangements of the building would be very difficult to provide against. Whereas with two there would provide against. Whereas with two there would always be one in reserve and in extremely cold weather a sufficient generation of steam would not be lacking for both could be used. Not less than $600 should be appropriated for this purpose. The new asylum should be plastered over the ceiling of the rooms, as without this it will be next to impossible to heat that building in very cold weather, in consequence of the shrinkage of the lumber used in its construction.

This committee are assured that this can be done, and we believe that it was a mistake that it was not done instead of making the walls of 2d clear flooring. Provisions should be made for this immediately in order to insure the work being done during the summer. So also with the boiler.

The drainage from the main building is very defective, and should be repaired. Superinten-dent Conant might be authorized by the Board to have this done.

Your committee also recommend that necessary plumbing tools be provided by the county for use about the county buildings as a measure of economy; as many repairs to the piping, pumps, &c., can be made by persons there employed, obviating the necessity of sending to the village or city for a plumber every time a pipe leaks or a pump needs repairing. They have pipe leaks or a pump needs repairing. They have been informed that these will cost about $50. During our last visit to the county farm a slight leakage in the roof of the main building and tendent Conant. No time was left for an exam-ination of the extent of the leakage or condition of the roof, but it is believed to be no more than can be provided for at slight expense. Authorized by a resolution of the Board passed at their session in November last, the room in the Court House occupied by the County Surveyor has been furnished with matting, desk, table and chairs for the use of the County School Teachers' Association, and the expenditure has been within the limits of the appropriation, which was $100.00 he is it and appropriation, which was $10. The jail and sheriff's residence are in good order and repair, except as to a general coat of paint, which is greatly needed. The drainage is defective; owing to the low situation, there seems no way of bettering it. There is an open cistern in the cellar, which we believe to be deleterious to the health of the occupants of the house. It would be the proper thing to remove it, and build a cistern on the outside. The ventilation of the jail by means of Sheriff Skavlem's plan, was never better, The Court House building is in a tolerable state of repairs, and nothing that this committee know of needing attention except about the entrance steps on the east and west sides. Since the inception of the undertaking of building the New Insane Asylum to the present time, your committee together with the advi ory members of it, have involved the county in an expense for conveyance to and from the county farm of $74.50. By a careful computation of farm of $74.59. By a careful computation of the number of visits and of the mileage which each member of the committee would be entitled, (and no charge has ever been made by any of them for such mileage) we arrive at the fact that the livery bill is less than the mileage would be by $7.00.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of Rock County:

The Committee on Tax Certificates and Illegal Taxes respectfully report upon the matter referred to them respecting a written statement made to this Board by E. W. Fisher, representing that he was assessed on certain personal property in the town of Plymouth (as shown by tax certificate presented herewith) in the year 1831; that he had removed to the town of Rock on the first day of May in that year, and that he was assessed on the same property in the town of Rock that same year. Your Committee have had the matter under careful consideration, and have come to the conclusion that a portion of the assessment made by the town of Plymouth was illegal. We find that he was assessed in the amount of $242 in the town of Plymouth; that a portion of that amount was on grain located in the town of Plymouth on the first day of May, and which was never removed to the town of Rock, where his residence was located; that the balance of the property was farm stock, implements, &c., which he afterwards removed to the town of Rock, and was only temporarily located in the town of Plymouth at the time of the assessment, and that therefore the tax levied by the town of Plymouth on $1,932 of the said personal property, amounting to $15.65, was illegal.

occasional smack of hps in osculatory union, or the low, musical ripple of laughter from a bird-like throat enveloped in a two-for-a-quarter rousch, two quixotic swains longingly scanned the sombre horizon from Pleasant street, in the vain hope of getting a glimpse of the polkadot skirts of their cherished loves. One, young man was burning with an ardor, to be soothed only by a tickle of his flame's disturbed bangs upon his left ear; the other a married man, was consumed with an unholy, faithless fire, and a gluttonous desire to catch the aroma of corned beef hash, from lips other than those of his once treasured darling, who then was sweetly dreaming of the envy she would inspire, when she should mincingly step between the church pews, in a gorgeous new spring bonnet, her adoring spouse was nightly laboring to accumulate. The anxious gentlemen wandered with hopeful diligence from the river to the western extremity of the street, peering idto every secluded nook, until shortly before the hands of the orinde watches pointed to the turning point of night, they discerned a couple slowly walking toward them. How their hearts beat, and how deftly they felt

their neckties and smoothed the wrinkles

in their pipe-stem trousers, necessary preliminaries to the ecstatic bliss in which they were about to revel. The two couples approached nearer and nearer, while hearts pulsated in feverish expectancy, and the rich, warm Milwau. kee-beer, made blood coursed through their veins in currents propelled by love's electric power! Yet, how different was the sequel from their ardent aspirations. The two parties were now face to face. Both stopped, petrified with astonishment. The married man was the first to recover, and in a bad actor's intonation growled "my wife." The woman stood a spectacle sad to look upon. Her spit curls shriveled into commonplace tangled horse-hair, as she violently clutched the arm of her escort, who in his turn trembled like an aspen leaf, in the raging presence of the irate husband. The pic-nic which succeeded was a private affair, of short duration however, owing to the uncongeniality existing among the participants. One young man walked disconsolately down the street while the other did the most extraordinary pedestrian feat ever witnessed in Janesville. He did not wait upon the order of going, but went like jagged lightning down one street and up another until far from the hated husband's sight and hearing. Left alone, the man and wife began to explain their unfortunate mashing expedition, until the dogs in the neighborhood growled a menacing protest, and they retired to the seclusion of their home, where it was rumored, this morning, some rare acrobatic performances were indulged in.

While in Chicago, a few days since, a reporter of the Gazette was impressed with the appearance of the numerous pawn-broking establishments. The display of winter clothing was at its maximun, the occasional relapse of winter, doubtless justifying the exhibition of overcoats, which in a short time will be bundled up and stowed away until the return of the chilly months. FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The sad intelligence of the death of Mr. H. D. Chapman, a former well known resident of Janesville was received here last evening by Mr. Charles E. Church the city clerk. The telegram conveying the sorrowful news was dated at Bemont Ille., and was as follows: Charles E. Church :-

You and your wife come immediately There has been a bad wreck and H. D. Chapman is reported drowned. MRS. H. D. CHAPMAN.

In response to the summons Mr. and Mrs. Church, the latter a sister of Mrs. Chapman, left here this morning for Bemont. Mr. Chapman was at one time located in Janesuille as roadmaster on the Northwestern road, and resigned to assume a position on the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railroad The accident which caused his death occurred yesterday, near Bemont; and as Mr, Chapman was missing, a diligent search was made for him, which proved unsuccessful, however, until early this morning, when the body was found. This fact was announced in a telegram addressed to Mr. Church which reached here to-day subsequently to his depart-

Two Indiscreet Boarders. Something in the nature of an astonishing surprise was received by a couple of boarders at the Davis house this morning, and in consequence two persons of opposite gender are now holding private indignation meetings. Not long since a spinster, who ruefully remembered the days of her teens, arrived in Janesville to take a position as cutter and fitter in a millinery and dressmaking establishment, and took up permanent quarters at the Davis house. A young man of a pronounced admiration for general feimininity who also manipulates decayed teeth boarded at the house, and it was not long before the other guests noticed a growing intimacy between the two. Every evening after tea, the two would walk out together, and naturally gossip began to circulate. Last night it is alleged the stringent rules of the house were violated in the most indecorous manner, and the fact was communicated to the proprietor Mr. A. E. Bailey. Mr. Bailey instantly decided upon the course he was to pursue, and this morning politely informed the couple that his house has too enviable a reputation to risk any scandalous gossip. He accordingly ordered the young man and woman to cate instantly which they of course did, with many protestations however, of their innocence.
